News Release

ROVER GOES DIGITAL IN VICTORVILLE

City of Victorville will issue digital ID dog tags to help families locate lost pets

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October 26, 2017

VICTORVILLE, Calif. –On Oct. 30, the City of Victorville will begin issuing dog licenses that employ digital tracking technology from PetHub.com. The City of Victorville, home to more than 7,500 licensed dogs, will employ the new digital technology to increase the chances of a lost animal's return while reducing the number of animals in shelters.

"Recent statistics show that 96 percent of animals using the digital ID tags are returned home in less than a day and never enter a shelter," said Guy Eisenbrey, Enforcement Manager with the City of Victorville. "This technology will be useful for pet parents in Victorville."

"Over $2 billion is spent annually by shelters in the U.S. to provide food, critical care, and a safe bed to lost animals," said Tom Arnold, Founder of PetHub.com. "Our goal is to get a lost dog or cat home before it can become injured through fights with other animals, taken in by strangers thinking the dog is homeless, or enter a shelter."

PetHub's system links a physical ID tag to an animal's online profile that can be accessed through an encrypted connection by anyone with a mobile device, whether a smartphone or standard cellular phone. That profile can be updated free-of-charge at PetHub.com to allow the owner to list emergency contact information, including that of anyone who helps care for the animal, such as spouses, pet sitters, veterinarians, and other family and friends. Optional upgrades include "found pet" alerts, GPS notifications, and a way to broadcast a missing pet's profile to local shelters and businesses (think "Amber alert," but for pets).

The new licensing program will launch on Monday, Oct. 30 for animals living within the Victorville service area only. Dog licensing is available online through the City of Victorville website at www.victorvilleca.gov.
